Dads make a difference !

Fathers play an important role in the lives of their children. The father of a child is not necessarily the biological father but any person whom the child looks to and treats as a father. Children's development is strengthened when their fathers are actively involved and interested in the well-being of their children and families. There is no "right" way for fathers to enrich the lives of their children. They can still make a positive contribution even if they do not live with their children.

Ways in which fathers can connect with their children

- ♥ Create family rituals that help build feelings of belonging. It can be simple things like eating a meal together every day or doing chores together on the weekend.
- ♥ Just be there! Watch your children play sport, or go to see them in the school play. This shows them that you are interested in their lives and their achievements.
- ♥ Tell your children stories about when you were their age. Or tell them the stories that you enjoyed as a child.
- ♥ Make a regular time to sit together and chat. When you're doing this, face your child so that you can maintain eye contact, or sit close together.
- ♥ Praise your children often for things that they do so that they know you notice and care.
- ♥ Show your children that you love them by giving them lots of hugs!

Even small amounts of time spent together are special and help you bond and make memories. Although it is best for fathers to be involved from early in their children's lives, it's never too late to connect with your children.

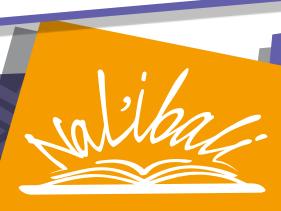

The benefits of a close relationship between children and their fathers

- ◎ It helps children to feel loved and secure.
- ◎ It increases children's self-esteem, confidence and social skills.
- ◎ The children do better at school.
- ◎ The children read and write better when their fathers spend time reading and writing with them.

Fathers also benefit from being involved in their children's lives

- ★ Fathers have more confidence and self-esteem when they spend time doing positive things with their children.
- ★ They have a better relationship with their children.
- ★ They experience more satisfaction as parents.

Let the children play!

- Children develop their imaginations through play.
- Children use their imaginations when they pretend that a box is a car as they push it across the floor. They may use the same box as a drum when they beat it with a spoon or with their hands.
- Through play, children discover the characteristics of the things around them. For example, they discover which things are hard and which are soft, as well as the different sounds that they make. They learn that round shapes will roll around easily but that square shapes will not.
- Through play, children experiment. For example, they learn how much sand and water to mix together so that a sandcastle will keep its shape.
- Encourage your children to play by letting them choose activities and objects to play with.
- Give them enough time to discover ways to use the objects around them in a creative way before you suggest something.

- Most importantly, encourage and praise them for their creative work. Join in their games as you help them to learn language through their games.

Songs, rhymes and games

When children say and act out songs and rhymes or play games, it helps them to remember words and their meanings. For example, some rhymes and games teach children what to call their body parts. Other rhymes and games teach children how to perform actions like stirring a pot or washing their faces.

- Songs, rhymes and games develop children's language skills.
- Sharing them with your children builds a sense of trust and strengthens the bond between you and the child.
- Singing, saying rhymes and playing games relax children, so it is easier for them to learn.

Play call-out games to learn about the body

It is best to stand next to your child so that they can see which side is left and right.

Lizzy, Lizzy, stir the porridge ... with your right hand (Move only your right hand as if stirring a big pot of porridge)

Lizzy, Lizzy, stir the porridge ... with your left hand (Now move only your left hand as if stirring a big pot of porridge)

Lizzy, Lizzy, stir the porridge ... with your right foot (Lift your right foot and move it as if stirring a big pot of porridge)

Lizzy, Lizzy, stir the porridge with your left foot. (Now lift your left foot and move it as if stirring a big pot of porridge)

Repeat the rhyme.

Sing a song with actions to learn about the body

This is the way I wash my hands, wash my hands, wash my hands. (Make the actions of washing your hands as you sing.)

This is the way I wash my hands early in the morning.

This is the way I wash my face, wash my face, wash my face. (Make the actions of washing your face as you sing.)

This is the way I wash my face early in the morning.

Repeat with This is the way I wash my hair/arms/feet.

Ask children to teach you the songs and rhymes they know. Find rhymes on our website, www.nalibali.org

Octavia the Octopus lived in the kelp forest, in the cool, clear waters on the edge of an African shore.

Octavia loved her garden, because she had a special trick – she could change her colour to match whatever she was resting on. She could even change her skin to look rough like stones, or spiky like coral.

Octavia lowa Okithopasi a tshama enhoveni ya majekejeke, ematini yo titimela ni yo tengen ethelweni ra lwandle ra Afrika.

Octavia a rhandza xirhapa xa yena, hikuva a ri na masalamusi yo hlawuleka – a swi kota ku ticinca muhlovo wa yena ku pananisa na hinkwako laha a wisa kona. A swi kota na ku ticinca nhlonge ya yena yi fana na maribye, kumbe swiluva swa mitwa.

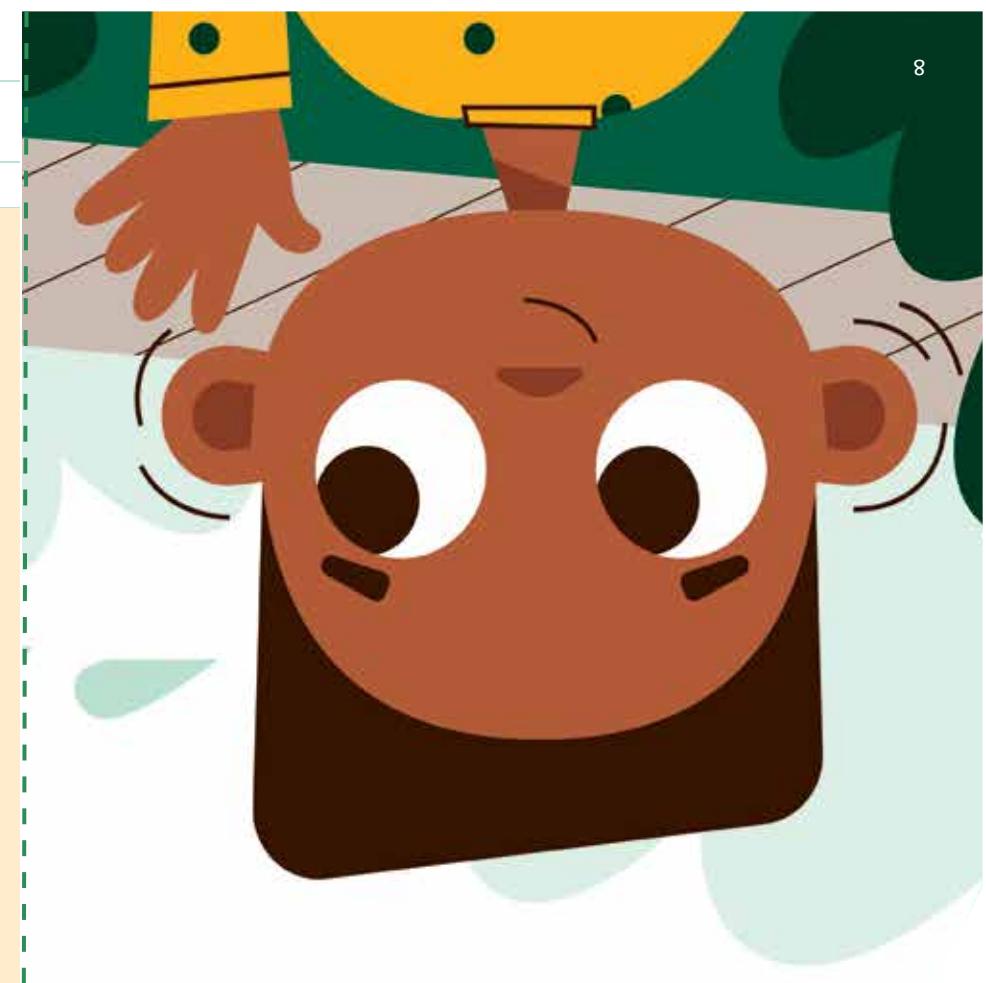

"Look, Gogo!"

"You have glasses," says Gogo, clapping her hands. "How wonderful. Tell me what you see."

"Vona, Gogo!"

"U na manghilazi," ku vula Gogo, a ri karhi a ba mavoko. "A hi ku tsakisa ka swona. Ndzi byele leswaku u vona yini."

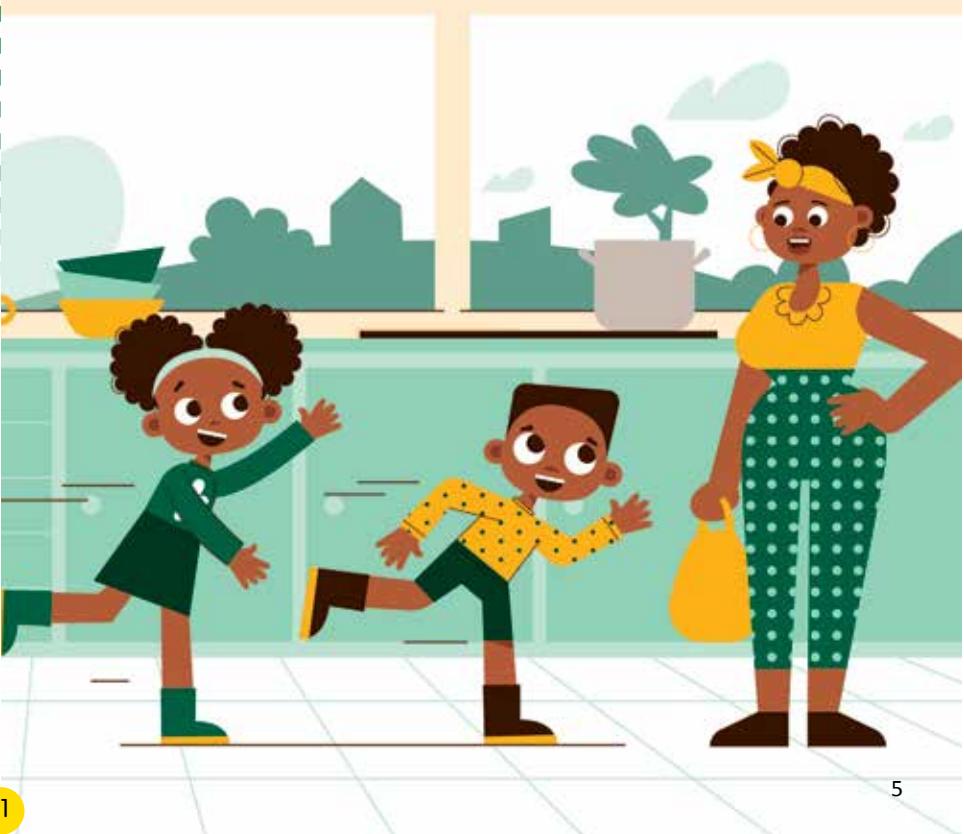

"Ndzi twa xithuthuthu," ku vula Luthando.

"I hear a motorbike," says Luthando.

World Read-Aloud Day 2023

Thank you for helping Nal'ibali read to 2,1 million children!

Each year on World Read-Aloud Day, Nal'ibali reminds everyone who lives in South Africa and beyond about the benefits of reading aloud to children. You've helped us spread a love of stories and reading to more and more children each year.

- ★ Over 2 million children were read to.
- ★ More children were read to in family groups than at schools or other gatherings.
- ★ 84% of the people who answered our survey would like to receive more stories.
- ★ 50% of pledges were made on our website, Facebook or social media pages.

Research shows that families who take part in World Read-Aloud Day programmes make a habit of reading and sharing stories and that, when family members can read and write, it helps to break the cycle of poverty.

Leswi mi swi vuleke... What you said...

Nsuna na hele

Hi Madikapi Pulane Mahlasela ■ Mimfanekiso hi Magriet Brink na Leo Daly

Hi vusiku byin'wana bya ximumu loko ku hisa, hele a ri famba hi ku nonoka ri tsemakanya tafula ra le khixini. A ri dya mahlahla ya xinkwa lava a ma hangalake etafuleni loko ndyangu wu heta ku dya, naswona se a wu ye na vurhongo. Hiloko hele ri twa mpfumawulo. Bzzzz, bzzzz!

"I mpfumawulo wa yini lowu?" ku vutisa hele. Ri langute matthelo hinkwawo kambe ri nga voni nchumu. Hiloko ri twa mpfumawulo nakambe. Bzzzz, bzzzz! "Kasi i mani a ndzi tungulaka?" ku vutisa hele hi ku hlevetela.

"Hi mina nsuna," ku hlamlula rito. "Wena u mani? Naswona ha yini u vulavulela ehansi so?"

Hele ri languta matthelo hinkwawo. "Kasi u le kwihi?" ri vutisa. "U fanele u ri ntsongo swinene hikuva a ndzi koti na ku ku vona. Ndza tshemba wa swi tiva leswaku hi mina boso la."

Hiloko nsuna yi jitama ehenhla ka tafula ekusuhi na hele. "U ri u boso wena?" ku vula nsuna hi rito ro tsan'wa.

Hele a ri swi rhandzanga sweswo. "Ndzi ri boso hi mina. Loko vanhu va ndzi kuma ndzi dya swakudya swa vona, a va ha swi dyi. Swi va swakudya swa mina, leswi kombaka leswaku va ndzi xixima va tlhela va ndzi chava," ku vula hele hi ku xikukumuxa.

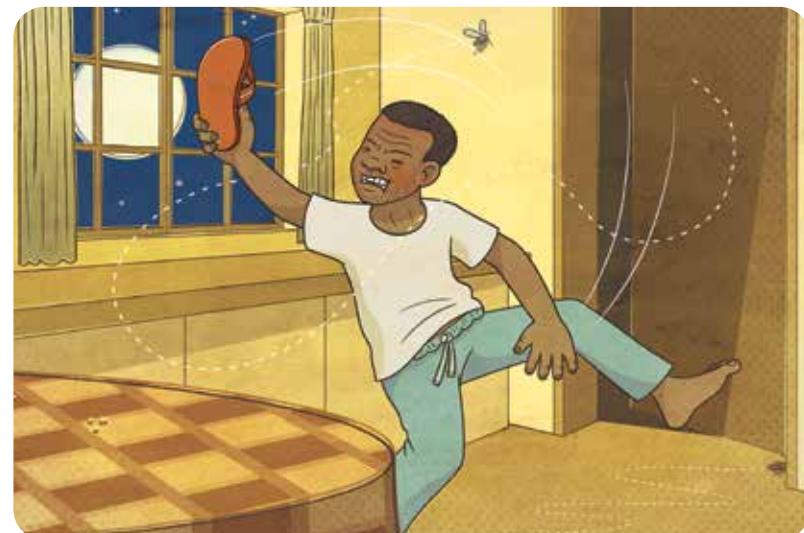

Hiloko ri fularhela nsuna ri ya esinkini laha a ku ri na swibye leswi nga hlantsiwangiki ivi ri sungula ku dya swakudya leswi nga siyiwa hi ndyangu eswibyen.

Nkarhi lowu hinkwawo nsuna a yi langute hele hi vuxiyaxiya lebyikulu. Hiloko yi hahahaha ehenhla ka nhloko ya hele, yi ri karhi yi ba pongo. "Loko u ri boso hakunene, ha yini u dya swakudya leswi nga sala?" ku vutisa nsuna.

Hele ri tlakuse nenge wa le mahlweni ri ringeta ku hlongola nsuna, kambe nsuna yi ala no twa, yi hahahaha ehenhla ka hele. Eku heteleleni hele ri ku, "Tshika ku ba bongo? Loko vanhu va hi kuma, va ta hi dlaya hi ri vambirhi."

"Mina a ndzi va chavi vanhu!" ku hlamlula nsuna. "Ndza va luma ndzi tlhela ndzi tswonga ngati ya vona. Loko va ringeta ku ndzi dlaya, ndzi tlanga hi vona ndzi baleka ndzi nyamalala. The mosquito and the cockroach

By Madikapi Pulane Mahlasela ■ Illustrations by Magriet Brink and Leo DalyThorne

One hot summer night, a cockroach walked slowly across the kitchen table. He ate the breadcrumbs strewn across the table by the family, who were now fast asleep in their beds. Then he heard a sound. Bzzzz, bzzzz!

"What's that?" asked the cockroach. He looked around but couldn't see anything. Then he heard it again. Bzzzz, bzzzz! "Who's making that irritating sound?" the cockroach whispered.

"I'm a mosquito," answered a voice. "Who are you? And why are you speaking so softly?"

The cockroach looked around. "Where are you?" he asked. "You must be very small because I can't see you. I hope you know that I am the boss here."

The mosquito landed on the table near the cockroach. "You are the boss?" said the mosquito in a mocking tone.

The cockroach did not like this at all. "I am the boss here. If the humans find me eating their food, they don't eat it anymore. It becomes mine, which shows that they respect and fear me," boasted the cockroach.

Then he turned his back on the mosquito and walked over to the sink where the dirty dishes were and started eating the leftovers on the plates.

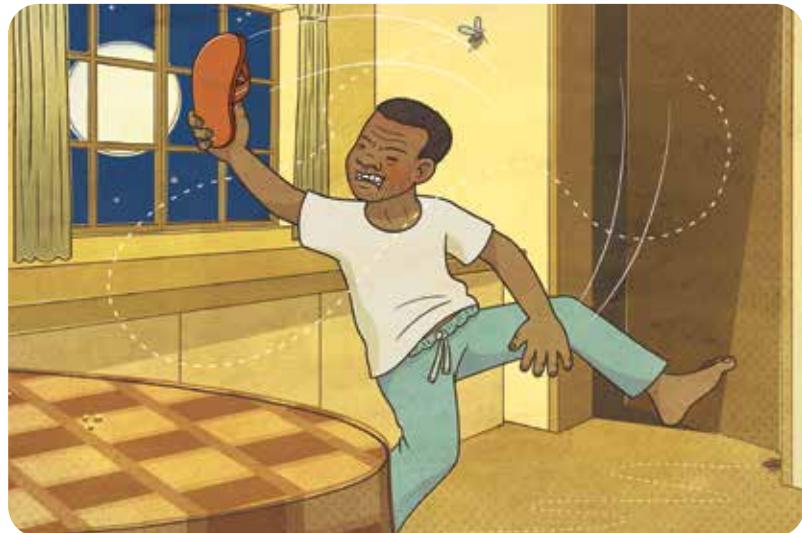

All this time, the mosquito watched the cockroach very carefully. Then she flew around the cockroach's head, buzzing all the time. "If you are the boss, why do you eat their leftover food?" asked the mosquito.

The cockroach waved his front leg to try to get rid of the mosquito, but the mosquito kept buzzing around the cockroach. Eventually, the cockroach said, "Can you please stop making that horrible sound? If the humans find us, they will squash us both."

"I don't fear the humans!" answered the mosquito. "I bite them and drink their blood. When they try to squash me, I dodge and swerve and disappear. And just when they think I have gone, I come back! The noise I make drives them crazy. They cover themselves with blankets even when it is hot. And when I bite them, it makes a very itchy bump." Then the mosquito laughed and laughed.

Suddenly, someone switched on the kitchen light. A man walked to the kitchen sink and filled a glass with water from the tap. The cockroach quickly dashed into a crack behind the door to hide.

The mosquito didn't seem worried at all. She made her buzzing noise, flying here and there and all around the man as he drank the water. At first, the man tried to wave the mosquito away with his hand. But still, the mosquito buzzed around his head. The man became more and more irritated until he was waving his slipper around in a frenzy. But the mosquito calmly zigzagged around his head, buzzing her irritating buzz. In the end, the man gave up, turned off the light and went back to bed.

"I think I'll stay in my hiding place a bit longer," the cockroach thought. "I don't know where the mosquito went and I'm not sure that it is safe to come out."

And he was right to stay hidden because the mosquito had flown into the children's room and was buzzing around their heads. "Dad!" one of the children shouted. "There is a mosquito in our room. Please come and help us."

This woke the whole family, and soon everyone was searching each room with pillows and slippers, ready to swat the mosquito. But of course, every time someone saw the mosquito, it would simply dodge and swerve and disappear. This went on for some time, but eventually, the humans gave up. They went back to bed and pulled their blankets over their heads, even though it was much too hot for that.

When the mosquito flew back into the kitchen, the cockroach came out of his hiding place. "Wow, I'm impressed," he said to the mosquito. "You had all those humans running around trying to catch you, but not one of them could."

"I told you that I fear no one. Now tell me, who do you think the real boss is?" asked the mosquito.

"It is definitely you!" answered the cockroach. "You may be tiny, but you defeated the humans."

"I am glad we can agree on that," said the mosquito proudly. "From now on, you can call me if the humans give you any trouble."

"I will, thank you very much," answered the cockroach as he scuttled off to find more food scraps.

From that day on, the cockroach and the mosquito became best friends and they worked together to annoy the humans as much as they could!

Get story active!

- ★ Think about all the creatures that irritate humans: mosquitos, flies, cockroaches and any others that you know. Which one is the most annoying? Why do you think so?

- ★ Write a poem about one or more of the creatures above. Think about how they look, how they move, the sounds that they make and the things that they do that annoy or frighten humans.

- ★ Make up your own insect! Draw your insect. Write down how big it is, what it eats and what sounds it makes.
