

What do you mean?

Nalibali is called a "reading-for-enjoyment" campaign. So, what exactly is "reading for enjoyment" and why does it matter?

Different people call reading for enjoyment different things. Some call it "free voluntary reading" or just "free reading". Others call it "reading for pleasure" or "leisure reading". But, they all mean the same thing: reading for enjoyment is reading because you want to.

It's not reading because you need to find information for a project or assignment. It's not reading a book because your teacher said everyone in your class has to read a certain book, or because your parents said that reading is good for you. It is not reading because someone said they would pay you R20 if you read a book during the school holidays, or because you want to have more stars on your reading chart than anyone else in your class.

When you read for enjoyment, you choose what you read, and mostly, when you read. You do not have to finish a book if you don't like it. Nor do you have to talk about it or write about it afterwards – you may choose to, but you don't have to. There is no test on the book and there are no prizes for having finished it. But there certainly are rewards!

When you have read because you want to, your biggest reward is the satisfying feeling that comes from having experienced a good book. It comes from entering another world, or learning about something you're interested in, or from having your understanding of something or someone changed or deepened. It doesn't matter what your age is – whether someone is reading to you, or if you are reading for yourself – the rewards are the same.

And that's why it is so important to read to children simply because it is a satisfying thing to do together. When children hear lots of inviting stories, it allows them to experience the power of books. This motivates them to want to learn to read, and the more they read, the more likely they are to become good at it.

It goes round and round: the more you read, the easier it becomes, and so the more you are likely to want to read for enjoyment, and so you read more often. That's what makes children into lifelong readers.

"Nal'ibali strives to reach as many parents and caregivers as possible. More and more South Africans are using cellphones, so they are a great way for us to connect with people. Being on WeChat allows us to offer information and stories to people in an easy and affordable way," explained Malini Mohana, Nal'ibali's Digital Coordinator.

If you have the app, you have access to loads of things related to stories and reading for enjoyment. Here are some of them.

- * Useful reading-for-enjoyment tips are sent straight to your cellphone each week to help you tell stories and read to your own children and/or children at school or in your community.
- * You'll find rhymes in different languages that you can read to young children.
- * The app allows you to "talk" to us directly by sending us an instant message.
- * You can take part in competitions by simply sending a message from your cellphone.

The great big fish

In this story, Joe wants to be just like his father and catch a fish for supper. But it seems as if Joe may be a better storyteller than fisherman! Children of all ages are likely to enjoy this story.

- ★ The story has lots of repetition in it, for example: "I caught the biggest fish/sheep/goat that you've ever seen" and "That's a great big sheep/goat! You're a great big liar, Joe." Once your children know the story, invite them to join in when you read the words that are repeated in the story.
- ★ Encourage your children to make up their own stories that are inspired by this one. Then help them to write their stories down so that they can read them later.

Tlhapi e kgolohadi

Paleng ena, Joe o batla ho tshwana le ntatae hantle mme a tshwase tlhapi bakeng sa dijo mantsiboya. Empa ho bonahala eka Joe e ka nna ya eba mopheti ya phetang dipale hantle ho feta ho ba motshwasi wa dilihapi! Bana ba dilemo tse fapaneng ba ka nna ba natefelwa ke pale ena.

- ★ Pale ena e na le phetapheto e ngata ho yona, ho etsa mohlala: "Ke tshwasitse tlhapi/nku/podi e kgolo ka ho fetisisa ho tseo o kileng wa di bona" le "Eo ke nku/podi e kgolohadi! O raleshano e moholo ka ho fetisisa, Joe." Hang ha bana ba hao ba se ba tseba pale, ba kope hore ba bale mantswe a phetaphetwang mmoho le wena paleng.
- ★ Kgothaletsa bana ba hao ho iqapela dipale tse kgothaleditsweng ke pale ena. Jwale ebe o ba thusa ho ngola dipale tsa bona e le hore ba tle ba di bale ha morao.

Granny's place

This is a simple little story about a girl who loves visiting her grandmother. The story is told mainly through the pictures. This story is especially suitable for younger children.

- ★ As you read the book together, allow time for your children to look at the pictures and comment on things they notice and find interesting. For example, you could say something like, "Look, that girl seems to really like oranges. That's just like you!"
- ★ After you have finished reading the story, ask your children to think of things they like to do with their grandparents or other family members you sometimes visit. Encourage them to write a list of these things – even if you have to help them by writing for them – and then to draw a picture of their favourite thing on the list.

Ha Nkgono

Ena ke palenyana e bonolo e mabapi le ngwananyana ya ratang ho etela nkgono wa hae. Pale ena e phetwa haholoholo ka ditshwantsho. Pale ena e loketse haholoholo bana ba banyenyane.

- ★ Ha le ntse le bala buka mmoho, efa bana ba hao nako ya ho sheba ditshwantsho le ho tshwaela ka dintho tseo ba di ehlwang le tse ba kgahlang. Ho etsa mohlala, o ka nna wa re, "Bona, ngwananyana enwa o shebahala eka o rata dilamunu. Jwaloka wena feela!"
- ★ Ha le se le qetile ho bala pale, e re bana ba hao ba nahane ka dintho tseo ba ratang ho di etsa mmoho le bonkgono le bontatemoholo ba bona kapa diho tse ding tsa malapa a bona tseo ba nang le ho di etela. Ba kgothale tse ho ngola lenane la dintho tse na – leha o ka tlameha ho ba thusa ka ho ba ngolla – mme ebe ba taka setshwantsho sa ntho eo ba e ratang ka ho fetisisa ho tswa lenaneng leo.

A salad with eight colours

It is Neo's mom's birthday. He has bought her a box of chocolates, Dad has bought her a pair of beautiful pink earrings and his younger sister, Mbalì, has drawn her a beautiful picture on a card. While everyone is busy preparing for Mom's big birthday party, Neo is supposed to be looking after Mbalì. But he would rather read his new book, and so he doesn't notice Mbalì getting up to all kinds of mischief. This is a good story for reading aloud or retelling.

- ★ With your children, look on the internet or in a cookbook for a recipe for something none of you has ever tried to make before. Together check what ingredients you will need and then read and follow the steps in the recipe. Or, create a new dish together by combining ingredients you have at home. Then write down the recipe so that you can make it again later or share it with others.
- ★ What is your favourite colour? Play a guessing game together, where you tell everyone the names of objects you can think of that have your favourite colour in or on them. See how quickly everyone can guess the name of the colour! Let everyone have a turn to describe their favourite colour.

Salate ya mebala e robedi

Ke letsatsi la tlhaho la mme wa Neo. O mo reketse lebokoso la tihokolete, Ntate o mo reketse masale a matle a pinki mme kgaisedinyana ya hae, Mbalì, o mo taketse setshwantsho se setle kareng. Ha bohle ba le maphathaphathe ba lokisetsa mokitjana wa letsatsi la tswalo la Mme, Neo o lokela ke ho hlokomela Mbalì. Empa o ikgethela ho bala buka ya hae e ntjha, mme kahoo ha a ehlwe ha Mbalì a ntse a seba. Ena ke pale e monate bakeng sa ho e balla hodimo kapa ho e pheta hape.

- ★ Mmoho le bana ba hao, shebang inthaneteng kapa bukeng ya ho pheha bakeng sa resepe ya ntho eo le so kang le leka ho e pheha le kgale. Le le mmoho le shebe hore le tla hloka ditwakwa dife mme ebe le bala le ho latela mehato ya resepe eo. Kapa, etsang dijo tse ntjha mmoho ka ho kopanya ditwakwa tseo le nang le tsona lapeng. Jwale ebe le ngola resepe eo hore le tle le e phehe hape ha morao kapa le e abele batho ba bang.
- ★ Ke mmala ofe oo o o ratang ka ho fetisisa? Bapalang papadi ya ho noha mmoho, moo o bolellang bohle mabitso a dintho tseo o ka nahanang ka tsona tse nang le mmala oo o o ratang ka ho fetisisa. A salad with eight colours

By Helen Brain ✨ Illustrations by Rico

It was Mom's birthday. Neo had saved up his pocket money and bought her a box of chocolates. Dad had bought her a pair of beautiful pink earrings and Mbali had drawn a beautiful picture on a card.

"Thank you, my darlings," Mom said, putting the earrings away safely in the jewellery box on her dressing table. "I have to hurry now or I'll be late at the hairdresser. I'm having my hair done so I can look extra special for my party tonight."

A little while later Gogo called Neo. "I'm busy making food for Mom's birthday party," she said. "Please watch Mbali for me."

"Okay, Gogo," said Neo. But he wasn't really listening. He had a new book from the library all about two boys who sail the seas on a pirate ship.

"Neo," called Gogo after a while, "what is Mbali doing?"

Neo jumped up. He had forgotten all about his little sister. Where was she? He could hear her singing to herself. She had Mom's jewellery box open and she was wearing all Mom's necklaces and rings and bracelets.

"No, Mbali!" Neo said. "You're not allowed to touch those."

Mbali started crying, so Neo quickly packed away all the necklaces, rings and bracelets. Then he picked up his little sister and carried her to the kitchen.

Gogo was very busy. She was watching a pretty lady called Siba on the TV. Siba was making something called a seven colour salad.

"Why is it called a seven colour salad?" Neo asked.

"Look," said Gogo, pointing to the ingredients on the table. "It's got white rice, green peppers, red peppers, orange peppers, brown bacon and black pepper."

"Red's my favourite colour," said Neo, nibbling on a piece of bacon.

"Yellow's mine," said Gogo.

"And Bella loves green," said Neo.

"Pink, pink," said Mbali.

"But Gogo, that's only six colours," said Neo.

"Well, I'm going to add some curry powder," said Gogo. "Mbali, what colour is curry powder?"

"Pink," said Mbali.

Gogo and Neo laughed.

"Noooo," Neo giggled, "it's yellow."

Soon the salad was finished. Gogo put it on the table and covered it with a cloth. "I'm quickly going next door to ask Mrs Mthembu if she can lend me a cup of sugar. Neo, you watch your sister. Make sure she doesn't touch anything."

"Bring all your teddies here," Neo said to Mbali. "Then you can play with them while I read my book."

Mbali trotted off to her bedroom and brought out all her teddies. Neo helped her line them up on the couch and cover them with a blanket so she could put them to sleep. Then he picked up his book and started to read again.

"La, la, la, la," sang Mbali to her teddies. Neo turned the page. This book was so exciting. "La, la, la, la," sang Mbali.

Suddenly Neo looked up. Mbali wasn't singing anymore. Where was she? He checked all the rooms. There she was, in the kitchen, standing on one of the chairs. She was eating Gogo's seven colour salad.

"NO!" shouted Neo. "That's for Mom's party."

Quickly he took a spoon and smoothed over the top of the salad and put the cloth back neatly. It looked as good as new. Eish! That was close.

By five o'clock everything was ready. Mom had got back from the salon and her hair looked beautiful. Neo had helped Dad light the fire for the braai and Gogo had bathed Mbali and dressed her in her prettiest party dress.

Suddenly there was a loud shriek from Neo's parents' bedroom, "My new earrings are gone!"

Neo hurried to the bedroom. Mom was nearly in tears. "I put them here," she wailed. "I put them in my jewellery box just this morning, and now they're gone! We must have had a burglary!"

"Oh dear," said Neo. "Mbali was playing with your rings and necklaces this morning, but I put everything away neatly, I promise."

"Mbali," called Mom. "Come here."

Mbali's bottom lip began to tremble and she looked down at the ground.

"Where are my earrings?" asked Mom. Mbali started to cry.

"I told you to watch your sister, Neo," said Gogo. "You know she's not allowed to play with your Mom's things."

Neo felt terrible. He hung his head. "I'm really sorry, Mom," he murmured. Now Mom's birthday was spoilt and it was all his fault.

Wait! What was that he saw? There was something sparkly under the dressing table. Quickly Neo crawled under the dressing table and picked it up. "Here's one of your earrings, Mom!" he called.

He looked everywhere for the other pink earring – under the dressing table, under the bed, in Mom's drawer. He even checked Mbali's bed and her doll's pram, but he couldn't find it anywhere. Mom was very sad – she couldn't wear only one earring.

Just then the doorbell rang. Their friends had arrived for the party. Mom put on her old blue earrings and she put a smile on her face and went to say hello to everyone who had come to wish her a happy birthday. Dad put the sausage on the braai and soon everyone was laughing and talking.

Neo could see that Mom was still sad. "I wish I'd watched Mbali better," he thought as he helped Gogo carry the salads outside to the big table.

"Let's eat," said Dad. "It all looks delicious. Thank you, Gogo for making such wonderful food."

"She learnt how to make the seven colour salad from a lady on TV," said Neo.

"There's white rice, and green and red and orange peppers, and brown bacon, and yellow curry powder, and black pepper in it."

"Pink, pink," called Mbali, banging the table with her spoon. "Pink, pink."

"MMMM," said Mom. "I can't wait to try it."

She scooped a big serving onto her plate and took a mouthful. Suddenly she stopped chewing. Her eyes grew big and round. Something was wrong!

"What's the matter?" asked Dad.

"Don't you like it?" Gogo asked. "Did I put too much curry powder in it?"

Mom put her hand into her mouth and pulled something out. "My earring!" she cried. "Here's my lost earring."

"Pink," said Mbali with a big smile. "Pink."

"Mbali put your earring in the salad," giggled Neo. "She was sad because the salad didn't have her favourite colour in it."

"I think tonight we will have to call it an eight colour salad," smiled Gogo.

Everybody laughed, even Mbali who was holding Mom's pink earring.
